PRAYERS FOR SEARCH COMMITTEE

I have always thought that if I worked hard enough; if I worked long enough; if I worked smart enough - I would be successful. Experience is often a great teacher.

One experience is forever etched in my mind - the drought of 1988. One 75 acre field that I had farmed since 1973 was always very productive. In 1987 the field was planted in corn and it yielded 190 bushels per acre. By 1987 I had previously raised 200 bushel corn, but not often. Wow, I really had this farming figured out. In 1988 that same field farmed the same way made 10 bushel to the acre. I was devastated. What had I done wrong?

Experience teaches us that sometimes there are outcomes outside of our control and outside of our ability to understand. It is during those situations that faith carries us through tough times.

Last week the Search Committee, after working tirelessly for 2 years, kicked it into another gear. They completed 2 phone interviews, completed a half day in-person interview, were going to host another half day in-person interview on Monday, and were preparing to make an offer to one of the 2 excellent candidates. They were excited about the possibilities.

In less than 24 hours, both of the candidates for personal reasons withdrew their names from consideration. One decided they should move closer to their parents in Minnesota, one of which is in a nursing home. Both emphatically told us that it was nothing negative against Gibson First Christian Church just a better fit for them somewhere else.

“One day looking back we will understand the delay. God’s delays are not denials, but they are His way of preparing the church and the candidate for what is next.
